Witte Museum Holds Family-Day Good Times for Families

1-4 p.m., Sat., Aug. 1

SAN ANTONIO—Time is of the essence! Join the Witte Museum for an exploration of time elements through hands-on activities designed for the entire family. Good Times* for Families is 1-4 p.m., Saturday, August 1 and is included with museum general admission.

Watch the passage of time by creating a flip book, explore how eyes can see the pictures in a thaumatrope and read time by looking at tree rings to learn about the Witte's history.

After experimenting with the hands of time, head to the Witte's summer blockbuster exhibit, Playing with Time, to examine the universe's changes that are too fast or too slow for the human eye to see including popping corn kernels, flowers blooming, seeds sprouting, light from space and growing old.

Playing with Time is on view in the Kathleen and Curtis Gunn Gallery through September 27. There is a $3 surcharge in addition to museum general admission for Playing with Time. For more information call 210.357.1900 or visit www.wittemuseum.org.
